Were You Ever Humbugged?

Do you know the meaning of the word, "Humbug?" If not, then just go up against some scheme where you are made to believe that you'll get somthing for nothing, and you'll get WISE, yes, very wise, when you take your "bargain" home and examine it. We have no "something for nothing" sales—all our goods are of the very best quality, and we sell them at a very reasonable profit. Isn't that business? Think, look, before you leap.

case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs Clapp, "when I began giving Dr King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Too Much Credit.

In speaking of the long term credit system, which has been and is now the greatest drawback to the conduct of a successful business, the Danville Advocate prints the following pertinent paragraph:

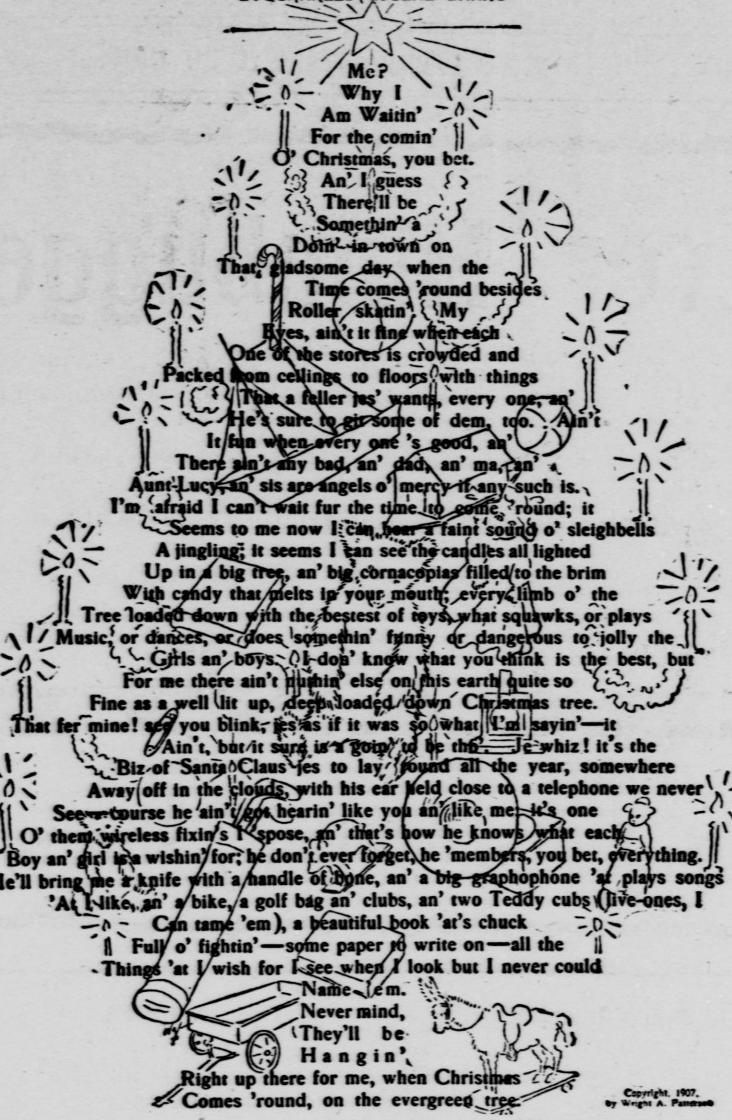

"The little money flurry of the last few weeks has demonstrated that the country has been doing too much credit business, from the largest 'frenzied financier' to the little cross-roads merchant. If every one paid cash there would be no such thing as panic, it would be impossible. If there is one town in the world that is more credit ridden than another it is Danville. It is about time for the merchants to get together and put their business on a cash basis. It is much better for the buyer as well as the seller. The buyer cannot buy so much, but he may always be in debt; while the merchant sales may not be quite as large, he will know where he is 'at' when he takes his invoice. Try the cash basis and see how it will prosper."

Baddy Mixed Up.

A bram Brown, of Winterton, N Y, had a very remarkable experience: he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by R E McRoberts, druggist, 50c. Im

The Christmas Tree

Greeting

*May He, whose star shone bright and clear
To guide the wise men on their way,
Be thy sure refuge, ever near
To help, to comfort, night and day.*

The spirit of Christmas! What is the spirit of Christmas? Is it the generous spirit, the spirit of giving? Yes, but that is not all. There will be millions of gifts made between now and the new year, and they will not all express the Christmas spirit. Some will be made out of pockets of plenty and thus entail no personal service; some will be made under compulsion of supposed necessity. How many people give things at this time because they think they must. They must give to those who, they hope or fear, will give to them. It is almost unfortunate that giving and taking has become such a feature of our Christmas celebration because the mere gift is incapable of expressing the spirit of this occasion, and the occasion itself has become a burden to many because it has been so much abused. It is not by giving lavishly that we honor Christ, whose birth we celebrate, but by sharing unselfishly every good thing we possess. This would be the best thing of Christmas within reach of every human life and enables every human being however poor in goods to give generously of whatever else he has. We all have much. Is money denied us, then let us give what is better, a word to cheer, a smile to awaken hope, something out of our hearts' treasure. Who would not rather get a cordial message from a friend that would express his thought and appreciation, than to get a dollar trinket? What heresy to think that we cannot express an unselfish love at Christmas time except by lavish use of money. The spirit of Christmas is the spirit of Changed History of World.

The history of the world prior to Christ is a history of barbarism, cruelty and bloodshed. Read the history of Babylon, Persia, Greece and Rome and you read a history of vice, degradation and crime. A history that is written in blood and iniquity. The classic Greeks and tenacious Romans worshiped a multitude of gods. Even the inhabitants of Syria had gone astray until it was declared by the prophet. Our worthy ancestors, the Teutons, were a semi-barbarous people without literature, without government, without refinement and without religion, but when they received the glad tidings of the gospel of Christ their habits were changed, their manners refined and their civilization improved. Wherever this gospel is proclaimed it is as a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

THE BELLS OF YULE

THE bells of Yule ring loud and clear

Across the threshold of the year;

The quiet moon is rising slow

Beyond the margin of the snow;

The white glint sparkles far and near.

How long have those old sounds been dear!

How long have we from youth to scar

Re-heard their rippling carol flow,—

The bells of Yule!

Old days return; old dreams appear;

Old conflicts rise of Hope and Fear;

And yet, with all, 'tis good to know

Despite Life's change of kiss and blow,

We still thank God to hear once more

The bells of Yule!

W J Romana.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee is in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. G. J. Simpson.

Kelly knew what that was I mean, at least $400 a day for "the old man," and he knew the need.

Everyone said the Alice Riley had an uncommon crew: two hours later the tug's whistle blew four booming blasts in the darkness—"strong ahead"—and five more that were Billy's farewell to Mary if she was awake—or cared. She saw from her bedroom window the long steam through the channel, sparks flying weirdly in the wind, out to the open lake where no light shone to mark the way for the 30 miles of desperate tussle with waves that now at times buried the very deckhouse roof. Again the five short blasts as the starboard light turned north beyond the pier, then was gone.

"Here's hopin'," growled Billy as he whirled the wheel over. He was hanging on grimly, for at times the tug stood about on end. A sea smashed one of the pilot-house windows and he fixed it as best he could by the dim binnacle light. He lashed the wheel to a course two points east of north. In the blackness he could see only the white crests of waves. The panting of the tug's exhaust told him Kelly was stoking like a fiend and that O'Neill was squeezing the last ounce out of his big engine, 16 square. Ahead was blackness, the maddened waters and the infrequent flash of rockets.

It was still dark when Billy saw, as the tug topped a great wave, a ship's light ahead twinkle a moment where the whitecaps marked White Shoals. At dawn he had a line to the derrick and the great seven-inch hauser was going to her overside; an hour later they were fast by the forward towing post. It would be easy in such a sea to trip on the hauser and "turn turtle," or to be snatched by a great wave and have the hauser break. The barge on the shoal was an ore freighter loaded to the water's edge, a heavy tow.

With his hand on the bell cord to signal to O'Neill, Billy muttered: "Here's for Mary and better."

He rang, the engines started, then crash! Billy's Christmas wishes were cut short; the tow post was gone and water poured into the hole in torrents. It was hours later when they got that hauser again, when the tug's hoarse whistle roared, "All right," and the bellow of the stranded barge replied. It was dreary work and Billy and the crew were gaunt with hunger and weariness.

Again slowly in the teeth of the wind they went ahead, jerked tremulously at intervals when the waves snatched the tow. When they were getting into deeper water O'Neill's engines suddenly stopped, and ten minutes later the barge had drifted back to the shoal. The eccentric had slipped; the tug was but driftwood; bad business in such a sea.

Billy Noonan and O'Neill kept her afloat somehow, and all the time Billy, still clutching the wheel, was muttering of Mary and Christmas; he had strange vagaries, but was still sane as a skipper. When at last the frantic hammering in the engine room ceased, near evening of the next day, they were still near to the barge that was pounding on the shoals. The sun broke through the clouds, a red sun near to setting beyond the tossing waves, the sunset of Christmas eve.

It was never clear how they got the slow steel barge to move so fast once they got her off again. But in the midnight hours when St. Nick, Kris Kringle and all the Christmas fairies were abroad on land, when the last embers of the yule logs smoldered cozily under lines of stockings in many, many homes, the Alice Riley's deep whistle sounded off the Charlevoix pier. Capt. Riley still sat before his fireplace, waiting hopefully—as was his nature. But for the hundredth time he looked about the room at Mary's pitiful efforts at Christmas decorations. Suddenly he heard, faint but unmistakable, the bass call of the Alice Riley.

Instantly he picked up his crutch and rapped on the door of Mary's room. So quickly did she appear, suspiciously red-eyed but smiling, she must have been awake, too.

"Listen," he cried, holding up his hand.

Boo-oo-oom, boo-oo-oom, boo-oo-oom!

"All right!"

Again, deep, full and growing less faint, the whistle sounded, "All right."

"That means a Christmas for all of us, Mary, in spite of the fish!"

Then there came a succession of short, sharp toots and the captain stared perplexed. With a twinkle he turned to Mary.

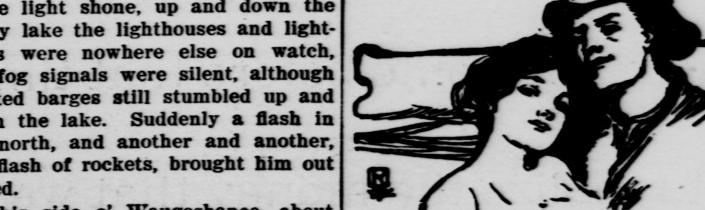

"Do you know what that means, Mary?" he asked.

She flushed crimson, but before she put her arms about her father with a hug that he understood she flashed her answer from the bow window with a lamp. The captain, smiling, for a long time sat looking at a picture over the mantel, the picture of her mother.

"Merry Christmas," he said to the picture, very softly. "I knew it would be.

Billy brought it—and Billy had it, an unforgettable Christmas—with the Riley's. When at last he "rolled in" with Kelly, the fireman, he called it "Mary Christmas."

PERSONALS.

Miss Annie Royston, of Chicago, is expected home for the holidays.

Miss Jessie Doty is expected Saturday from a visit to relatives in Texas.

Miss Kathleen Hanley, of Nicholasville, has been visiting Miss Anna Miller.

Mrs George Mann and little baby, of Bardstown have been visiting Mrs Eliza Bettis.

Mrs M D Hughes has returned from a visit to her son, R E Hughes, in Louisville.

Mrs R L Elkin returned Monday from a delightful visit to Dr and Mrs Elkin, in Atlanta.

Miss Lillian Shugars, who has been in St Louis and Kansas City, returned home Wednesday very much improved in health.

Rev Hugh McLellan, of Richmond, was here Tuesday, having been called to preach the funeral of Mrs Gulley.

Mr McLellan, who is a minister of exceptionally fine ability, has many good friends in Lancaster who are always delighted to see him.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Minnie Eastham, of Danville, and Mr John Potts, of Lexington, which will be of great interest to their many friends. The wedding will take place in several weeks. Miss Eastham is quite a pretty and attractive woman and Mr Potts is a very popular train dispatcher.

Handsomest in Central Kentucky.

Mr J A Beazley, the undertaker, has recently purchased in Cincinnati. It is of the latest type, with rubber tires and every modern improvement, and is unquestionably the handsomest car in Central Kentucky. Mr Beazley is fitting up his undertaker's parlors in the best manner, and will devote his entire time to the business. He is a graduate in the science of embalming, and has every facility for doing the very best work.

Notice.

There are four star routes advertised to be let in the Lancaster postoffice.

One from Lancaster to Stone. One from Lancaster to Danville. One from Lancaster to Nicholasville. One from Lancaster to Stanford. Any one who wants a job for 4 years come to the postoffice and read the advertisements.

A Test Case.

At Paris Friday, Judge Stout sustained the injunction of the Franklin

County Board of Control, restraining

F T Hayden from shipping his crop of pooled tobacco to Louisville for the purpose of selling it. At the recent meeting of the Burley Tobacco Society in this city it was resolved to make a test case of this one and, if successful, as they have been so far, to prosecute relentlessly, every owner of pooled tobacco, who tries to dispose of it. The case is of great interest to tobacco growers and the progress of the case in the Court of Appeals, to which it has been taken, will be closely watched.

A Good Suggestion.

Another suggestion as to Christmas shopping: Go to the stores as early in the day as possible. By this means you find the employees fresh and fit to attend to your wants; you find the goods displayed still unmauled by the hands of hundreds of bargain hunters;

you get the advantage of the day light in which to see the articles you wish to purchase, and every woman shopper knows the value of that; and you have a start upon the day's buying that allows you to get through without being rushed off your feet.

An Interesting Meeting.

The series of meetings, which began at the Methodist church Tuesday night, are proving of great interest and benefit to the large congregations attending each service. Rev Mr Dawson of Mt Sterling, is assisted by the local pastor, Rev J H Williams, and the discourses are listened to with much interest. The music is exceptionally good and is greatly enjoyed.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Drawing Big Crowds.

The electric theatre and moving picture show is drawing big crowds to the Sweeney store room every night. The shows are exceptionally fine and are enjoyed by all who attend. The price of admission is only five cents.

Blacksmith Shop Removed.

I have moved my blacksmith shop to Depot street, where am fixed for turning out the very best of work. Will appreciate a call from all who want good, honest work at reasonable prices. Tom McMillion.

We understand the new board of City Councilmen have decided to make Mr Luther Herron chief of police for the next term. This decision is, indeed, a wise one, for Mr Herron has so conducted himself both as an officer and a gentleman since his residence in Lancaster that he has won the admiration of the people, both white and black.

He is a man who does not know the meaning of the word fear, but, at the same time, is one of the most conservative and deliberate men we have ever met. Mr Herron came to Lancaster from Harrodsburg, and, as in Lancaster, was highly respected there. He and Mr Beazley, the retiring chief, did what so many people said could not be accomplished—completely stamp out the blind tigers.

No Paper Next Week.

As is the custom with all country weeklies, there will be no paper issued from this office next week. Printing offices are all crowded with job work during the last week in the year, and, beside, the hands must be given a chance to "take Christmas," as the old-time people express it. The editor will be in the office every day, as usual, and if you want any work, you will be waited on promptly. If you need job printing, ring up 43 and a runner will be after the order in less than a jiffy.

Tobacco Sales.

In Louisville Wednesday, B L Kelly sold four hogheads of tobacco at $20, $19.50, $15 and $13, average $16.87. J M Sanders sold five at $13.75, $12, $14.75, $14.00, $10.75, average $13.05. O T Layton sold four at $16.25, $15.75, $12 and $7.50, average $13.87.

Caused By Pride.

The Agricultural Statistician of the Census Bureau at Washington, Dr Powers, in accounting for the increased cost of living, gives "pride" as prominent among the reasons. "Times was," says the Doctor, "when a man who wanted to buy a steak threw his basket on his arm and went to the grocery after it. But he won't carry a bundle now. His meat must be sent to him. That is pride. It is safe," continues the Doctor, "to estimate that it costs five cents per steak for every cut that is delivered to a house. The same is true with other commodities of every day necessity. The man whose food is delivered to him by the green grocer or the butcher pays the freight." There is a whole lot of truth in these observations, and when the average citizen, irrespective of class or pecuniary condition, took his market basket to market himself and lugged his purchases home; also he was largely his own "bundle toter" from the grocery.

In these days we pay dearly for our pride—often a false pride—not only in the matter of the cost of living, but in many other things.

The Examination for Appointees to the Normal Department of State College will be held at the office of the County Superintendent, Dec 20 and 21.

Opens the 2nd of January, offering superior advantage to the young people of this region in obtaining a thorough business education at half the cost of going to college. Every young person who should seize this opportunity, and qualify themselves for good positions Prof Lippard has graduated and placed into good positions many Kentucky young people, and will be glad to do as much for these of this region, if they will only do their part. All others interested should send their names to the Record office at once.

When the Stomach, Heart or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Dont drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come.
